Prompt 2:

You're planning an article for your website about well-being. Write an article draft with around 1000 words on the topic of gym intimidation, focusing on practical strategies to overcome it. Make sure you use the attached writing style guide [\[insert writing style guide\]](#) when generating the draft. Include sections on setting realistic goals, dressing comfortably, planning workouts, starting slowly, using a personal trainer, focusing on oneself, celebrating progress, bringing a workout buddy, trying new things, and utilizing community support. Provide detailed tips and advice for each section to help readers feel more confident and comfortable in the gym environment.

Competitive positioning analysis

Please analyze the competitive positioning of my brand "PicMonkey" compared to "Canva" in the cloud-based graphic design solution industry. Attached [\[insert attachment\]](#) contains more information about both my brand and competitor's key characteristics, products/services, target audience, and current positioning strategy, as well as other information such as market data and my brand's unique selling propositions.

Then, using the perspectives of Steve Jobs, Elon Musk, and Jeff Bezos respectively, provide insights and suggestions on:

1. How my brand should position itself to differentiate itself from Canva
2. What strategies to attract and retain professional designers

Sentiment Analysis

You are the brand owner of a window company and you are doing customer research. You are now evaluating your brand's Google Business Profile reviews in attached [\[insert attachment\]](#).

Then follow below instructions

1. Analyze the sentiment for each comment
2. Look for some highlight that each comment has mentioned, both positive and negative
3. Summarize your findings and provide recommendations for improvement.

Carousel style social post

Prompt 1:

You are a social media marketing expert. You are tasked to create a carousel style social post on LinkedIn about the attached "Google's Prompting Guide 101 [\[insert attachment\]](#)". The target audience is digital marketers who are beginners in AI and prompt engineering.

The post should follow this flow:

- Cover with a title, the title should be interesting, click-worthy using simple language, 1 page
- Creative hook that encourage the curiosity and keep audience reading the whole post, 1 page
- Why it is important, explain why prompt engineering is important, 1-2 pages
- Key takeaways from the attachment, highlighting the key concept, with examples to illustrate the key point, up to 8 pages. The examples should be related to digital marketing to better help the audience to understand the key takeaway. For each takeaway, there should be both a Bad and Good example. For Bad example, highlight the example with pink background, for Good example, highlight the example with green background. Use emojis to make it engaging
- Call-to-action message and to drive traffic to Google prompting guide download page: [\[URL\]](#), 1 page

Now, help me to generate this post in the form of an artifact. Make sure each slide is a separate artifact. Beautify each slide as if it is ready to post on LinkedIn.

Prompt 2:

Are you able to combine all of these slides into one artifact where I can easily share with others in one go?
